Formatting (heading 2 + bold)

Let's test out text formatting:

Fortune favors the bold, italics, bold-italic, underlined and ~~strikethrough~~ text.

 ^{script} Clark Kent uses super and  Bi-Han digs sub_{script}.

The world is better in technicolor: purple, BLUE and green text with highlight.

Now let's get deep: we got Schrödinger's cat. And dark mode (inversed text).

A paragraph with styled text: subtle emphasis followed by strong text and intense emphasis.

Oscar Wilde was born^[d] at 21 Westland Row, Dublin (now home of the Oscar Wilde Centre, Trinity College), the second of three children born to an Anglo-Irish couple: Jane, née Elgee, and Sir William Wilde. Oscar was two years younger than his brother, William (Willie) Wilde.

Jane Wilde was a niece (by marriage) of the novelist, playwright and clergyman Charles Maturin, who may have influenced her own literary career. She believed, mistakenly, that she was of Italian ancestry,^[9] and under the pseudonym "Speranza" (the Italian word for 'hope'), she wrote poetry for the revolutionary Young Irelanders in 1848; she was a lifelong Irish nationalist.^[9] Jane Wilde read the Young Irelanders' poetry to Willie and Oscar, inculcating a love of these poets in her sons.^[10] Her interest in the neo-classical revival showed in the paintings and busts of ancient Greece and Rome in her home.^[10]
